Ketchikan, Alaska,
March 14th, 1899.

Editor Journal:
Dear Sir:

Your valuable paper of March 11th, reached here yesterday, and all copies were eagerly bought up by prospectors who are much interested in the question of fees for recording.

It has been decided by the prospectors here to elect a recorder for this part of Alaska, and we beg you to state in the Journal what steps are necessary by law to accomplish this purpose. Thanking you in advance, I remain,

Yours Truly,
Sam. K. Johnson.

It is provided by the revised statutes, that the miners of each district may make rules and regulations (not in conflict with the laws of the United States) governing the location, manner of recording, and amount of work necessary to hold possession of a claim. In order to form a new mining district, a mass meeting of the miners in any given locality should be called to meet at some central point, and when assembled, the district to be formed should be definitely described, and boundaries fixed as for instance, one or more islands naming them—then a district recorder should be elected, where all mining location notices and transfers, regarding locations, in the new district can be legally recorded; and the recorder is entitled to the fees allowed by law for recording such notices and transfers, which shall not in any event exceed ten cents per folio.

WHAT THEY SAY.

A FEW EXTRACTS FROM LEADING PAPERS REGARDING THE GRAFTERS.

The Seattle Times, in a leading article under date of March, 16th says:—The Stikeen River Journal is making very serious charges against Fred Page-Tustin, United States Commissioner at Wrangel. It claims editorially that he is not only extorting more than the legal fee for work that he does, but that he has even sentenced a man to jail contrary to law.

The latter case is that of Harry Neilson, who was taken to Sitka by Deputy Marshall Grant on the last trip of the Cottage City. He has been sentenced to serve four months. He is said to have demanded a trial by jury, which was refused because Neilson would not put up $10 to cover the costs of the case. It is hinted that a suit for damages will follow when Neilson is released.

Editor McKeand claims editorially that Commissioner Tustin has admitted that he charges $2 each for recording mining locations, when the charge should not be over 50 cents.

The Vancouver News Advertiser of March 15th says:—The citizens of Fort Wrangel, Alaska, are said, by late arrivals from the North, to be drawing up a petition, asking the High Joint Commission to cede their town to Canada. This is one of the oldest settlements in Alaska. They desire to be the center of Canadian travel to the mines of the Interior, and think a change of flags would help their business chances. The only excuse they offer for the desire to get from under the American flag is that the principles and laws for which that flag stands do not affect Alaska. They claim the territory has been abused and neglected. That it is overrun with grafters compared with whom 'Soapy' Smith was a prince.

The Washington D. C., Post in a leading article says:

It appears from a recent copy of an Alaska exchange that Government officials in Alaska are conducting themselves in a way to cause people to think that their personal gain is made paramount to official duty. The Wrangel Alaska Journal makes very serious charges against Court Commissioner Tustin and Deputy Collector of Customs Arment, both of Wrangel. The administration is not disposed to deal leniently with officials who betray an official trust, even in far off Alaska, and no doubt an official investigation will be made at once, to determine the guilt or innocence of the accused persons.

The Toronto Globe says: Much interest has been aroused here by a dispatch from Washington stating that a petition has been received from Wrangel, Alaska, asking for a transfer to British jurisdiction, owing to the oppressive nature of American laws as enforced by corrupt Government officials.

The San Francisco Chronicle says: The citizens of Fort Wrangel, Alaska, are said by late arrivals from the North to be drawing up a petition asking the High Joint Commission to cede their town to Canada. This is one of the oldest settlements in Alaska. They desire to be the center of Canadian travel to the mines of the interior and think a change of flags would help their business chances. The only excuse they offer for their desire to get from under the American flag is that the principles and laws for which that flag stands are not in effect in Alaska. They claim the territory has been abused and neglected and that the present officials are corrupt to the core and unfit to live under.

GENERAL NEWS.

A Synopsis of Happenings in the Outside World as Gleaned from Exchanges.

"An assay of black sand found in the Hootalingqua river, Alaska, made by Dr. Willis G. Everett, of the Smithsonian institute, is said to show that one ton of it carries $776 worth of platinum besides iron oxides, gold worth $102.84, two pounds of tin, two pounds of copper and one troy ounce of irid-osmine.

The great value is said to be in the yield of platinum, which is extensively used in electrical construction and dentistry. Platinum is found only in the Ural mountains of Russia, from which it is exported to this and other countries. Chicago Tribune.

It is now practically certain that ten freight steamers have been lost on the Atlantic during recent storms. This involves the sacrifice of more than 300 lives, and $2,000,000 capital. Of course there yet remains a slim chance that some of the crews may have been picked up by slow-going sailing vessels, bound for far distant ports, or that one or two of the missing ships may still be drifting—disabled—far from the usual lanes of ocean travel, but the probabilities are heavily against that hope.

The Casca is undergoing extensive repairs, preparatory for the new year's work, to commence in May. She will run as she did last year, on the Stikeen line, but it is expected the Nahleen and Sybel will be taken to the Yukon. Capt. Gray and Contractor W. J. Stephens were over at the yard yesterday making a survey of the Nahleen with a view to getting ready for service, and with the two works—that on the Casca and that on the Nahleen—going on simultaneously, together with the improvements being made in the yard and the stray vessels that will be repaired the yard give promise of being very busy for weeks to come. The Casca's repairs include a new stem, considerable planking, new knuckles and extra frames.—Victoria Colonist.

In a letter just received from Mr. Montague Martin, dated Glenora, February 25th, he says:

"Three weeks ago a case of scurvy was reported to Judge Porter, the sufferer being an unfortunate Klondiker. Since that date quite an epidemic has broken out, which has necessitated Judge Porter opening a hospital, the headquarters being at Glenora.

"Thirteen cases have come under Dr. Layton's care. Dr. Layton is a graduate of the College of Medicine, Detroit, Mich. and is a most efficient medical officer. Mr. Louis Watson has been put in as nurse and superintendent. Mr. Watson has always a pleasant greeting and is kind and gentle in his manners. When I visited the hospital I was struck by the general cheerfulness of the humble sanitarium.

"The hospital naturally, is merely a log cabin, but unlike most miners' cabins, it has plenty of light, and an even temperature is kept up. The patients seemed to be having a really good time they looked cheerful; color was returning to their cheeks, and satisfactory progress toward recovery was shown in the interest many were taking in the books and journals that had been supplied them.

"Malcolm Maclean, the head of the police, has been instrumental in bringing the patients in, one from the halfway house on the Teslin trail, one from the Hudson Bay post, several from the Taltan, three local, and one from Glacier creek. I think to Judge Porter much praise is due for his humane organization."

THE deeper we delve into the actions of the "Grafters"—Arment and Tustin—the more rotton the conditions are found to exist, and it would be hard indeed to find a case, where if opportunity presented itself, the "Grafters" failed to apply the screws. We are giving the facts to the public as fast as space will admit. The town is getting warmer; and next week we will give our readers more interesting matter.

IN another column we publish for the benefit of the notorious Prince Joe; the law relative to exactng tribute from employees or subordinates, on the part of United State officials. The law provides that in every case where liquor or other contraband goods passes through Alaska enroute to British Columbia, it shall be conveyed by a representative of the Customs Department. Special deputys are employed for this purpose, whose salary is provided for by law. It is not the intention of the Government that such special deputy shall pay tribute to Joseph A. Arment for his job, and in every case where such tribute is enacted, the "Graft" constitutes a criminal offence, punishable by imprisonment.

THE new Alaska liquor law makes it necessary for a person intending to engage in the liquor business to first obtain consent of three forths of the inhabitants of the place where such liquor business is to be conducted.
This provision is a good one, as it places the controll of the liquor business where it belongs: in the hands of the people.
Were it not for this clause, it would be possible for outsiders of the most disreputable sort to engage in the liquor business in Wrangel, to the great annoyance of our law abiding citizens.

It is the duty of all citizens to use their prerogative in this matter, to the end that Wrangel may have such saloons only, as the needs of the town demand, and such saloons should be run in a proper and lawful manner.
Let our leading citizens get together, and act in this mattar at once. There is wisdom in the old saying "An ounce of pre-tative is worth a pound of cure."

Collector J. W. Ivey, is expected up from below soon.
We are looking forward with pleasure to his coming, in the hope he will realize the imposition that has been worked on him by his unprincipled deputy at Wrangel. No doubt Mr. Ivey has been accused of much which in reality his subordinates are responsible for.

It is surprising to witness the promptness which has been shown by the people of wrangel and elsewhere, in rallying to the support of the Journal in its crusade against corruption and crime as practiced by His Majesty Fred the First, and his Royal Highness Prince Joe. The issue of March, 4th had hardly appeared on the streets before a half dozen of persons called, and asked to be enrolled on the subscriptions. Since then more subscribers have literally poured in, and our modesty alone prevents publication of a few of the many words of praise which greeted each succeeding issue. Not alone have our subscriptions been greatly increased, but, many business men at home, and below, appreciating the importance of this publication as an advertising medium are negotiating for space. All the Alaska papers, and the great dailys in Victoria, Seattle, San Francisco, Denver, Chicago and Washington, D. C. are publishing facts about the "Grafters" in Wrangel; and the injustice they work—quoted from the great weekly. If the rush continues, we will be compelled to enlarge the paper. We wish to thank the public for their liberal support, and at the same time assure them of a continuance of an up to date publication, conducted in the interest of Alaska in geneeal, and Wrangle in particular.

It appears that certain unauthorized person or persons, have been busying themselves this week, by circulating reports that the "Grafters"—Arment and Tustin—had bought off the Journal, and that in future this paper would support those officials in their official acts. We take opportunity to stamp such report as a lie. The Journal is the voice of the people; Truth and Justice is our motto, and as long as our ink lasts, we will cry out against such men as Arment and Tustin. They are "Grafters" who are using their official positions for personal gain, and neither of them appears to care whether they violate the law or not. Both of them have performed official acts, which make them criminally liable to the law. If these King "Grafters" with the attacks in the Journal to cease, their desire can be accomplished by their resigning the official positions which they hold, and which they have disgraced, and retiring to private life; in which case we will show mercy to the extent of advising against the bringing of criminal action; although both richly merit the penelty which they have risked in their wild grasp for gotten gain.

I cannot truthfully say that I was elated over the prospects, but as I had neither wife nor child it was of but small consequence whether I came back.

reached for the whistle-lever and gave one long blast of warning for Dixon station. That was my last conscious movement until I opened my eyes in a darkened room and heard W— say to me: "Lay still Tom! You have a bu'sted driver, a broken side-rod and a cracked crown-sheet." He meant that I had broken my arm and leg and cut my head. W—? Oh he got not a scratch. You couldn't kill that boy with a double-barreled shot gun at two paces! The car did not turn over and that "saved the con. and brakie's bacon," as my fireman remarked as he walk away, whistling as usual.

ployee to receipt, or give a voucher for an amount greater than that actually paid to, and received by him, is guilty of embezzlement, and shall be fined in double the amount so withheld from any employee of the Government, and shall be imprisoned at hard labor for the term of two years."

If Mr. Arment will read the above he will see that for every time he caused vouchers to be issued for services of convoys with contraband goods destined to Canadian territory, making it appear that such convoys had worked a greater length of time than they actually worked, and paying such convoys less than voucher called for, he defrauded the government and was guilty of embezzlement and subjected himself to two years in the penitentiary with striped clothing and hard labor.

Chamberlain's Cough Re-edy.

This remedy is intended especially for coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough and influenza. It has become famous for its cure of these diseases, over a large part of the civilized world.
The most flattering testimonials have been received, giving accounts of its good works; of the aggravating coughs it has cured; of severe colds that have yielded promptly to its soothing effects, and of the dangerous attacks of croup it has cured, often saving the life of the child. The extensive use of it for whooping cough has shown that it robs that disease of all dangerous consequences. It is especially prized by mothers for their children, as it never fails to effect a speedy cure, and because they have found that there is not the least danger in giving it, even to babies, as it contains nothing injurious. Sold by Wrangel Drug Co.
